2007 TriMedia Film Festival Call for Entries Is Open!

2/18/2007. TriMedia Film Festival proudly announces its call for entries for the 2007 event. Please see all the details on the Submit Your Work page. We are accepting entries again this year through WithoutABox.com.

This year's festival will include the following categories:

FILM (FEATURE, DOCUMENTARY, ANIMATION, INTERNATIONAL)

Shorts (under 30 mins.) & full-length (31+ mins.)

TV PILOTS/TV SPECIALS

Short (under 30 mins.) & long (31-120 mins.)

THEATRE -- By Invitation Only

Scripts (5 to 20 minutes)

Entry fees are very reasonably priced starting at $30 for the early deadline of March 31, 2007.

If you are a playwright, screenplay, or teleplay writer in Fort Collins or Northern Colorado and are interested in submitting your work to the festival, please send email to Starla Kovar, our Theatre Track Manager, for more details.

2007 TriMedia Film Festival Call for Entries Coming Soon

2/5/2007. TriMedia Film Festival will be announcing the Call For Entries around February 12, 2007. We had an excellent program last year for our inaugural event, and we plan to continue that trend and make it a tradition for the TriMedia Film Festival. We're really looking forward to screening new films and TV specials/pilots in the coming months.

This year's event will be September 7-9, 2007, in Old Town Fort Collins. We'll be back at the Lincoln Center and the popular Everyday Joe's, plus we have some new venues in the works. As we have news, we'll post it here.

The TriMedia Festival Showing at First Night in Fort Collins

12/11/2006. FIRST NIGHT Fort Collins, December 31, 2006, 6:00-10:30p

It's a non-alcoholic celebration at First Night in Fort Collins, and the TriMedia Festival is a part of it. First Night's theme this year is "Discover the Story," and we'll be showing programming from IndieKids Films, the warm-hearted "My Backyard Was a Mountain," the film noir comedy "Harry and Greta" and the comedy "Love Thy Neighbor," plus TriMedia Festival jury award winner "Absolute Zero." Our venue is Everyday Joe's Coffee House, an audience favorite because of the comfortable surroundings and excellent specialty coffees and teas.

Buy tickets (buttons) starting Friday December 15th at King Soopers grocery stores and the Lincoln Center Box Office at (970) 221-6730.

TMF Program at Everyday Joe's:

6:00-6:30p: IndieKids (Program I)

6:45-7:15p: IndieKids (Program II)

7:30-8:00p: IndieKids (Program III)

8:15-8:45p: My Backyard Was a Mountain

9:00-9:30p: Love Thy Neighbor + Harry & Greta

9:45-10:15p: Absolute Zero*

Please note that this film may not be suitable for children 12 and under owing to intense subject matter and very brief nudity.*

We look forward to seeing you!
